

The Tuxedo Hour

by Walt Mason

Tuxedo's bully all the time; it makes the passing hours sublime, and by its soft and gracious curves it soothes the soul and rests the nerves, and fills my bosom, once again, with peace on earth, good will to men. But best I like it when I've fed this face of mine with jam and bread. When I have dined on Irish stew and beans and boiled potatoes, too, and pie and eggs and cheese and tripe, 'tis then I best enjoy my pipe. When from the table I withdraw, I grip my briar with my jaw, and fill it with Tuxedo mild—the pure Tuxedo undefiled—and smoke away in perfect bliss; no pleasure can compare with this. And in the curling smoke I see a world that seemeth good to me. A world that's debonair and gay, its woes and worries done away. The plans that seemed foredoomed to fail, the work that seemed of no avail, now wear the rosy glow of hope, and I endorse all sunshine dope. 'Tis thus in my Tuxedo hour; the world that seemed so dark and dour, is blooming like a rose of spring, and I'm in mood to laugh and sing.

HOW PROGRESSIVES FEEL

St. Louis, Mo., June 14.—William Allen White, one of the more eloquent of progressive leaders, arranged today to see Sec. of the Navy Daniels. He declared, however, it was not with any thought of finding a way for progressives to join the democratic party.

"I am not for Wilson," he said. "I admire Mr. Wilson very much but that is as much as I can say."

"Whom will you support?" he was asked.

"I cannot say. I am floundering around in a slough of indecision."

wood is sales agent for the Oregon Co-operative Egg Circles, an incorporated association which was organized at Salem last April.

This association is made up of the various co-operative egg circles of the state. The eggs from the different local shipping centers are sent direct to the Portland office where an expert candler grades and packs them for immediate sale on the best possible markets. The eggs are carefully standardized and sold under the registered stamp of the association. The plan is working successfully, said C. C. Lamb, extension specialist in poultry husbandry at O. A. C., who is assisting in the organization of these associations.

All farmers and egg producers are invited to hear Mr. Kirkwood, who will speak on the co-operative marketing of eggs.

The general showing of the company was graded "very good". At the annual inspection Company M had 101 men and three officers on the floor.

How Cherry Queen Contestants Stand

Considerable improvement is noted in the interest taken in the selection of queen for the Cherry fair, July 3. Miss Verna Cooder is now in the lead by several thousand and it seems that her friends and the Elk lodge intend to keep her at the head of the list. But as there are 12 more voting days, many things can happen, especially as the Elks have a big home-coming evening tomorrow night and the Moose a celebration on the evening of June 24.

The vote today stands:

Verna Cooder 36,720

M'COMBS MAKES FINE OPENING ADDRESS

Says the Republicans Would Make the People Their Wards--For Profit

St. Louis, June 14.—National Chairman McCombs, in opening the convention said:

"We are in an atmosphere of victory. We have no feeling of guess, but a spirit of certainty. We meet to celebrate the marvelous achievements of the democratic party since it came into power and to place a milestone upon the path of its further success."

"Over 2,000 years ago, an old slave related the fable of the frog who wanted to grow to the size of an elephant. Such was the ambition of his soul that his body swelled to a marvelous proportion. Indeed, Aesop went so far as to predict that the frog, upon reaching the size of the elephant, would burst. I commend to your notice the wisdom of Aesop. It took over 2,000 years for his prophecy to come true. Only last week the frog-elephant—or the elephant-frog—exploded. The republican party for years succeeded in deceiving the country. Now it is successfully deceiving itself. In its platform it offers pulchritudinous promise—but with vacuous intent. It promises the country, in the main, what the democratic party has already done or is in the process of doing, saving always the bogus god—protection. It has cloaked its iniquity with a judicial robe, but the cloven hoof of special interest still protrudes."

"Wards—for Profit."

"The board of directors has sat in Chicago and again resolved that they are the country. They have adopted the doctrine of fore-ordination and predestination but have made it applicable only to themselves."

"The rest of the people are their wards—for profit."

"Ambition is a noble attribute, but when it is adulterated with greed, a cataclysm is inevitable. We have recently witnessed a painful spectacle of two great American parties at Chicago, putting self in place of ideals; self glorification in place of national honor; republicanism and progressivism so-called, in place of our only 'ism'—Americanism."

"We have witnessed the drab spectacle of two groups of men, trading principles like competitors in a fish market, in the hope that some compromise would win public support. They have not come together—they have fallen out over the 'sawg'."

"For the sake of victory, many of these men, essentially opposite in principle, have been willing to become friends with false masks. The result is inevitable—'divided they fall.' We are proud in the thought that 'united we stand.'"

"We welcome the pent up Americanism of the real progressives individually to our ranks, offering them a haven, in principle. Their leader has abandoned them with crass cruelty."

"This is a crucial hour in the history of the world. It is an hour when every man should take stock of himself and his principles. This is an hour when everyone should see whether in his inner consciousness he squares with the ideals of 1776 and the later periods of dramatic episode, when this country resolutely maintained peace with honor."

Democracy Maintains Ideal

"The democratic party, in the face of scandalous and vicious attacks has maintained this great American ideal. While for peace, it has steadily and surely worked for sound and powerful preparedness. It has maintained a solemn, calm dignity in the face of circumstances which might have drawn it into the vortex of a world destruction. Though vilified by self-seekers it has maintained friendly relations throughout the world; it has been true to the spirit of America; it has been true to the great principles of Washington, Jefferson, Madison and Jackson; it has allowed no selfish interest to blind it to the fundamentals of its faith and the country has found that its confidence has been well bestowed. The democratic party has proven itself a party of principle, a party of constructive ability, a party of performance. It has proven that ideals can be realized. United we stand for America."

"Ladies and gentlemen of this great convention, the elephant is dead, the mouse is dead. Long live the American eagle."

TO MARK PIONEER TRAILS

A campaign to locate and mark permanently the pioneer trails and roads of Oregon is being conducted by the Oregon county chapter and other chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Oregon Geographic board and the agricultural college department of history, co-operating. If these early travel ways are to be permanently known it is essential that they be located and marked while information about them is still extant. Any reliable data upon the pioneer roads—that is sent to J. B. Horner, head of the history department at O. A. C., will be duly acknowledged and promptly forwarded to the proper authorities, where it will be of great value in preserving the historic routes of the state.

HUGHES TO MANAGE

John Hays Hammond and Charles E. Church were two of Hughes' callers today.

Hughes will probably slip out of New York over Sunday for a rest, returning Monday morning.

The list today of men prominently mentioned for the national championship is growing. It included Frank Hitchcock, Hughes self-appointed consultant; Herbert Parsons, New York committee man; William Hayward, public service commissioner of New York; Ralph E. Williams, of Oregon; Senator Sherman, Senator Weeks and a number of other favorite sons.

Theodore Douglas Robinson, cousin of Colonel Roosevelt, and Everett Colby, New Jersey progressives, were in conference with Hughes today and it was afterward made known that Robinson will see the colonel before night. He will not see him, however, as emissary of Hughes. Both Robinson and Colby are to do their best to line up the rank and file of the progressive party in favor of Hughes.

"The platform is broad enough for all," said Colby. There is no reason why a single progressive should stay out."
